A Third Millen- nium Christianity

Part I, A Story of Discovering God in me *A Spiritual Formation
as an Emerging Adult (1987-1998)*

High School
When I made adult
affirmation of faith,
just after turning 18
years old, there was an understanding of God's presence. I had spiritual emotions like empathy
and compassion for Christ Jesus, the Nazarene carpenter
born in a barn and only Son of God, yet
there was a gnawing skepticism too. My skeptical side wanted to know how salvation could not be shared by all peoples. I felt saved, but I could not resolve how souls, who do not have the feeling of God's presence
and do not know Christ Jesus, were not in God's saving grace.

College
My healthy skepticism was nurtured by the Jesuit fathers of Rockhurst College
after high school from 1990-1993, until I graduated with a degree in Continental Philosophy. The Jesuits encouraged
me to question contexts and reflect on systemic situations
that holy scriptures were written in and early church doctrine was developed.
Then, on my 21st birthday weekend, I made a 4-day silent retreat to Assumption Abbey in Ava, Missouri where I met several Trappist
monks. I had not experienced silence
and contemplative
prayer like that before. It made a great impression that I think has remained
as an imprint on my soul.

Healing Presence/
Memories
Since that weekend,
when most of my friends wanted to buy

me a shot at the pub
and help me celebrate with different spirits, there has been an evolution of consciousness. A journey of selfless service wrapped in the grace of contemplative prayer has been the way of being I know to end in beauty. It is also the lens by which I can see the same Christ Jesus who appeared to me at age 18.
These three years of my life (18-21 years)
were turbulent and
sometimes traumatic,
yet hindsight has revealed a personal Lord Jesus Who
guided every step
through a dark night
of spiritual despair.

An Adult Transformation and Integration of Grace in the 21st Century (1999-2015)

Married with Children/Parish/
Mortgage/Small Business
Once I emerged as an adult with two wonderful kids and a beautiful spouse, life sped by in the blink of an eye. Fast forward through the 30's and early 40's and here I am 47 with more joy and fulfillment than ever before. Sure, there were many obstacles and detours over the past 17 years, but God was there through it all. Specifically, during another dark night when I did not know for certain whether I could make it out of the caravan of despair that enveloped my entire way of being.

It was a period of darkness as I remember, not knowing whether the spark of the soul would be sustained through it all. Now I can see that the darkness was necessary, as the transformation of a traumatic injury compounded by secondary traumas along the way of ministry, was being integrated into the fabric of my whole being. Without disclosing too much information, since I believe the content is not as relevant as the gift of forgiveness received in the healing presence of God, the outcome was a profound and lasting encounter of God's Spirit touching my soul wound. I like to say that this transformation and integration of a soul wound happened for me not to me, during the first three years after being ordained a priest and thereby a cleric in the economy of God's saving grace.

To be continued... Part II, A Story of Unfolding me in God.

Father ~ Matt

Senior Warden's Message:

Easter Sunday was especially meaningful to me. I enjoyed seeing the church full to capacity. My thanks go out to all those who helped make it all possible. It takes a lot of cooperation to decorate the Church Sanctuary, clean up the church grounds, clean the kitchen, prepare the Easter Brunch, gather Easter Eggs, prepare to deliver the Sermon plus getting dressed up for the day! The addition of Baptisms has made this an Easter to remember. I am proud of the enthusiasm that was in evidence among us in celebration of Christ's Rising again.

I would like to share a recommendation for you to visit Assumption Abbey if you are ever in the Ava Missouri area. Father Matt recommended it to me during one of the bible study sessions he gave a few years back. It is on Bryant Creek close to an old mill site where you have to cross over the old dam if you come in from the North. Father Matt was there soon after the start of his ministry. The Monks there have a vow of silence, rise early in the morning, have mostly communal meals, and have several services a day. I was given a small tour by the lady that runs the gift shop there. They do have rooms and one or two houses that may be rented. I believe the meals are available to be shared with the monks with prior notice. The original abbey is on the river and is in disrepair. The area is very beautiful and will be very vibrant when the dogwood comes into bloom. The Monastery was begun in the early 50's with the Monks supporting themselves by making concrete block; they do not do that anymore as the work became too much as they got older. Now they make a very delicious rum fruit cake and have quite a reputation making it. It costs about $35 per cake via mail order or can be purchased on site for about $27. I would call ahead if you are going there and have one saved for you as they do run out. That happened to me one time and instead I purchased a coffee cup as a souvenir. I am sad to report that last week that cup broke. I can only hope that the loss of the cup; which led to my thoughts about spring time in the Ozarks and to this piece in this Newsletter will lead to some of you visiting so we can share our memories. It is a place of peace, solitude, and beauty.

With Christ's Love,

Jay Hildreth

There is now a recycle trash container for our recyclables. A list of allowed items is available on the refrigerator.

We have been approved by Dillons community support program. The procedure will be a second attachment with this email for our church members. It will also be posted on the church bulletin board, with copies on the information table.

Our 150th year as a church will occur in five years. If you are interested in helping with the planning, please talk to Doug.

There are plans to expand TTEM to the first Thursdays of each month with volunteers coming from the community. If you have an idea of a group to help, let Thomas know as he is the chairperson of the expansion.

The following items are needed in the CMH food pantry: mac & cheese, cheerio-type cereal, spaghetti sauce, jelly, pancake/baking mix, and dry meals (Hamburger Helper)
Also personal hygiene items, toilet paper, and cleaning supplies.

They have fresh potatoes if you want some or know someone who could use them.

CHM can't function without volunteers and they need YOUR help! Contact Angel Hecht at angel@heartforhim.org or (785) 294-1129 to volunteer.

Children's Garden Update:

Isn't the weather interesting? We have had spring since January, and even our early Easter celebration had plenty of flowering shrubs to contribute to the flowering of the cross, my personal favorite part of Easter at St. Luke's. Soon it will be time to get the garden prepared for a new round of vegetables, and the first step was moving the compost to a more discreet location. It is now by the back kitchen steps, ready for all the garden waste and vegetable trimmings the chickens don't claim. As a reminder, please refrain from putting trash in the bin, and sticks should be piled to the side, since they don't break down well. Stay tuned for planting updates! As always, any and all suggestions and help are welcome.

Emily Benson

TTEM Breakfast:

In March approximately 20 community members came for breakfast and fellowship. Our group was a little smaller as this was "Spring Break" week. We anticipate that on our next TTEM date, Thursday April 21st, we will have a larger group joining us!

Everyone is welcome to stop by share breakfast and fellowship with friends and neighbors in our community. Volunteers are always welcome!

Please remember, if you are able, to sign up to supply food items for the breakfast and have them at the church by the Sunday prior to the breakfast.

Jac Brown
